Dear Sisters, Brothers, and Children in Jesus Christ,

"I am the vine and you are my branches" (John 15: 5). As we are aware, vine is a plant that requires extreme care. If neglected, it can grow wild and thus be cut and thrown into fire. Regular and systematic pruning will ensure good crops. Jesus assures us that if we stay close to him, we will be able to produce much fruits. In other words, if we draw water and manure and other nutrients required for our growth and sustenance from Jesus, the main stem, a good produce is guaranteed. But the question is whether we are keen on remaining closely attached to Jesus, the true vine.

One of the contradictions in the lives of many Christians today is that they claim to be attached to Jesus and his gospel but fail to produce any visible signs (fruits) of their close affinity with Jesus. In I John 3: 23, we read: "And his commandment is this: We should believe in the name of his Son, Jesus Christ, and love one another just as he commanded us." That means, belief in Jesus Christ should naturally lead us all to loving one another. If this natural outcome is not visibly manifest in our lives, we can never be called true disciples of Jesus.

A dangerous phenomenon that gets widespread in our society today is a view point that says religious belief is essentially a matter of individuals with their God, without having anything to do with their fellow humans. As far as Christianity is concerned, this is totally unacceptable, because when Jesus says that one who remains close to Jesus produces much fruits, he is undoubtedly saying that those who believe in Jesus will certainly care for the community around them. Thus Loving, Sharing, Forgiving, Doing Justice etc. all become parts of the whole.

Yours in Christ Jesus,
Fr. C. P. Varghese
