Dear Sisters, Brothers, and Children in Jesus Christ,

Accepting responsibility for the wrong done whether it was knowingly or unknowingly, is a sign of human maturity. Instead shifting blame or bringing up lame excuses is certainly indicative of lack of having it. It is said that U.S. president Harry S. Truman had a sign with this inscription on his desk: 'The buck stops here'. This was meant to indicate that he didn't 'pass the buck' to anyone else but accepted personal responsibility for the way the country was governed.

In the first reading of today we have the response of the man and woman after they committed their first sin. The man said to God that the woman whom he was given as his companion forced him to eat the forbidden fruit. The woman in turn blamed the serpent that tempted her saying that it was good to eat the forbidden fruit. There began the offense of shifting the blame/ passing the buck. We see this happening all the time in our world – the nations blaming each other for lack of peace in the world, the citizens of the countries blaming their governments for internal disputes and civil wars, the elected leaders accusing earlier government policies for the failure of delivering proper governance, the members of family finding fault with each other for disharmony and disunity and the individuals blaming God, and cursing themselves for not being successful enough...And the list goes on.

For once, let us accept responsibility for our own lives and commit ourselves to put up our best performance in our world. Let us give a clean chit to ourselves and also to others so we can be truly faithful to what we are called to do in our daily lives, without blaming self, others or God. We are in the month of June, a month dedicated specially to honor the Most Sacred Heart of Jesus, a symbol of love that flows without any conditions. Let us surrender ourselves totally into that heart which is the origin of all life and strength. At Bayard we are celebrating the solemnity of the Most Sacred Heart of Jesus thereby acknowledging that we take refuge in the redemptive love of Jesus our savior.

Yours in Christ Jesus,
Fr. C. P. Varghese
Pastor
