Dear Sisters, Brothers and Children in Jesus Christ,
The event of the transfiguration of Jesus that traditionally believed to have happened on mount Tabor was God's revelation of who Jesus was to himself and to the apostles. Jesus was growing in the gradual awareness of being the Son of God. By now he knows the purpose for which he was sent by his Father. Now he knows the path to reach there, namely the path of suffering and death. Moreover, Jesus begins to realize that he came to fulfil the Law and the Prophets.

It was not only to Jesus that transfiguration communicated God's mind. But also, to his inner circle of friends – Peter, James and John, it was clear that Jesus indeed was the messiah. They would in turn share the newly gained insight with their companions, friends and others in the circle of apostles and disciples. Thus, the good news would spread far and wide to the whole world. And almost all of them would suffer martyrdom for the sake of Christ.

It is important for us after every Christ experience to examine ourselves to see whether there is any change happening in us. As disciples of Jesus, we must experience a transformation within ourselves, and it should urge us to initiate a Christly transformation in the world around us. When we can recognize Christ present in our world in the form of those who are marginalized, despised and condemned, ostracized and isolated, then we are making their world, nay our world where they belong too, Christly and Christ like.

Thus when we make effort to transform this world into God's Kingdom, then we are fulfilling our most important obligation of Christian disciples. May this Lent provide us with more opportunities to transform this world in the way God would want us to.

Yours in Christ Jesus,
Fr. C. P. Varghese
Pastor
